

LOWVELD TRAILS CO. TRACK & SIGN COURSE

This 5-day course will open up a new world to the naturalist, with the focus being on the identification and interpretation of the tracks and signs left behind by the incredible diversity of wildlife in the South African Lowveld.

As your 'Environmental literacy' skills are honed, you will become more situationally aware, and will therefore feel more at home in your natural environment.

The course follows the CyberTracker structure and standards, culminating in a CyberTracker Track & Sign Assessment on the final day.

Passion. Experience. Quality.

Scheduled Courses

24 - 28 June 2026

24 - 28 October 2026

About the Course

For the duration of the Track & Sign Course, you will be based at the Lowveld Trails Co. Tented Camp in the Timbavati Private Nature Reserve (PNR), part of the Greater Kruger National Park.

The course is facilitated by one of the Lowveld Trails Co. CyberTracker Track & Sign Specialists, who will be joined by a CyberTracker Assessor on the last day.

There is a maximum number of eight participants per course, ensuring personalised attention from the course facilitator and as much first-hand experience for the candidates as possible.

The course will be practical and intense, with an average of 7 to 8 hours spent in the field each day.

"The CyberTracker Universal Tracker Certification covers the fundamental principles of tracking as well as the finer details and sophisticated aspects of tracking. The evaluation is in the form of a practical field test. Mistakes are corrected and explained continuously throughout the duration of the evaluation. This process identifies the strengths and weaknesses of each candidate in order to develop the potential of each individual in accordance to his or her level of skill."

What to Expect

A typical day starts with a wake-up call prior to sunrise. As the birds announce the approaching day, we enjoy coffee, rusks and a light breakfast before heading out on a four to five hour tracking session as soon as sufficient daylight allows.

We return to camp by midday for a well-earned brunch, prepared by the camp cook, and a few hours free to shower, read or study. As it starts cooling down in the afternoon, we head out again for another two to three hour session.

Dinner and a crackling campfire will await us back at camp, usually followed by an open air shower and an early night after the physical and mental exertions of the day.

Our Tented Camp, set under giant Jackalberry trees along a dry riverbed, is basic, but comfortable, providing an authentic and interactive experience.

Canvas dome tents, with single camp stretcher beds and linen, house 2 guests each. Ablutions are simple, yet perfectly functional. Comfortable seats crouch over pit-fall toilets and canvas bush showers stand under a canopy of trees, open to views of the surrounding bush.

The communal area is set around the campfire or at the dining-kitchen area where the camp cook, whips up wholesome meals on a gas cooker and an open fire.

There is no electricity, cell-phone signal or Wi-fi, but we trust you will find a strong connection.
